i. Angela's participation in the conference will not only assist us here in Athens but will have a multiplier effect for the Department in light of her onward assignment. She will certainly be able to incorporate the knowledge gained at the conference to the resources available as part of ConGen. Since her arrival at post, she has been handling the IV workload personally. Although the volume of cases is small, most applicants are Third Country Nationals and have some element of fraud. She has had to handle numerous sham and possible sham K1 and CR1s for Nigerian, Ethiopian and Iraqi applicants, among others. As the IV Chief and FPM in Lima, Angela and her team used all resources at their disposal, including piloting new technologies and investigative tools, to combat the pervasiveness of fraud there. Please note that Angela would be happy to draw on her extensive visa experience to serve as a presenter during the conference.
